

Clark Nominated For Speakership

OSCAR W. UNDERWOOD IS MADE
CHAIRMAN OF WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE

Washington, Jan. 19.—Champ Clark, of Missouri, was chosen speaker of the house of Representatives and given a rousing ovation on mention of his name for the Presidency, a ways and means committee, previously agreed upon, chosen to name the standing committees and frame tariff legislation for early action by the next Congress; a new York member read out of the party; a list of resolutions and a host of speakers—these were features of tonight's caucus by the Democratic incoming House. There were only eight absentees among the old and new Democrats of the Sixty-second Congress. Martin W. Littleton of New York was one of those missing. The program arranged by the leaders was carried out almost to the letter, all members, however, being given latitude in debate.

Mr. Underwood, of Alabama, long the lieutenant of Mr. Clark, heads the new Ways and Means Committee.

The caucus developed considerable difference of views as to the method of selecting committees, but when the time came for voting various resolutions were voted down. The Fitzgerald resolution to leave the committees to the Speaker's selection was lost—29 to 166—and the Foster resolution placing that power in the Ways and Means Committee carried by 166 to 7.

KILLED BY FALL FROM MOTORCYCLE

Claude Hudson, a well known young telephone lineman, formerly of this city, but lately of Abbeville, was found this morning at 9 o'clock in an unconscious condition as a result of a fall from a motorcycle last night. He died this afternoon at his home in Abbeville.

Hudson was in Dothan yesterday afternoon and left for his home in Abbeville. When within a mile and a half of that city, he ran into a ditch and was thrown from the machine, receiving serious injuries.

He was found this morning in an unconscious state, and was picked up and carried to his home in Abbeville, where death came this afternoon at 1 o'clock. It is supposed that it was an early hour last night when he fell and he was likely unconscious all the time after the fall. He never regained consciousness after he was found.

Hudson worked here for the Standard Telephone Company for several months as lineman, and about a month ago removed to Abbeville, where he went with the Abbeville office.

He was about 22 years old and is survived by a wife.

The quantity of cotton consumed during the year was 4,798,953 bales, compared with 5,240,719 in 1909, a decrease of 441,766 bales, or eight per cent.

Lou Nem was the name found in a book in the dead man's trunk, given to him by his teacher, an American woman.

Lou Nem took charge of the dead man's things and has moved them out. The majority of the effects were shipped to Lou Sing at Florida.

Paul Morton Is Dead In Gotham

CHARGED WITH SAFE-BLOWING

Huntsville, Ala., Jan. 19.—Reuben Chapman, a former Huntsville boy, is in jail here on charge of blowing the safe in the postoffice at Lake, Miss. The authorities claim that he is one of the best known safe blowers in the country. Detectives have been on his trail from time to time, for two or three years and they believe that he has been implicated in many jobs that have been done by the yeggmen over the Southern States.

Chapman was brought to jail in this city and when arraigned before Commissioner Greenleaf admitted his guilt. He will be taken to Jackson, Miss., to stand trial in the Federal court.

Many were surprised this morning to see a big red goose walking down the street, quacking and hissing, but when it got nearer it was seen that it was only an advertising scheme concocted by the Red Goose shoe people. The shoes are sold here by the New Store and the goose will leave from there every day on his parade.

EQUITABLE PRESIDENT STRICKEN WITH CEREBRAL HEMORRHAGE

New York, Jan. 19.—Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society and secretary of the navy under President Roosevelt, died of a cerebral hemorrhage in the hotel Seymour here tonight.

His wife and his elder brother, Joy, were summoned to his side, but he was dead at a quarter to seven o'clock a few minutes before they arrived, and an hour after he was stricken. His close friend, N. J. Berwind, arrived a few minutes earlier, perhaps ten minutes before the end, but he was unconscious from the moment of the stroke, and neither recognized those about him or spoke.

The coronor's office is satisfied that death resulted from natural causes and there will be no autopsy.

Mr. Morton himself had no idea that his life was in danger, but his family, his physicians and a few close friends knew that his condition was precarious and that if he did not take care of himself, grave results would follow.

The State treasury is empty. Who got it? Possibly this, too, will be explained satisfactorily.

The pension roll needs purging, so it is said. Usually when anything is done to the pension business it gets more money from the state.

People oughtn't to get into the papers with their pictures till they have had their friends pass on them. You know mighty few people take good pictures, and most of them should be written about, instead of illustrated.

WATCH 'EM

If there is not a sharp lookout kept on the boys at Montgomery, something will slip through. Montgomery, Mobile and Birmingham, with possibly Selma, will get saloons, and if per chance any bills slip through fixing it for those cities, then you will see a great fight to keep the rest of the territory as dry as possible. Give those cities whiskey, and they are willing for Alabama to remain dry forever. The jug trade to the outlying districts would be something enormous.

Personally, we think that local option will be given, but it wouldn't if those towns can help themselves.

They will bear watching.

SOUNDS A NOTE OF WARNING

Senator Norman is of the opinion that the state is moving off too extravagantly in some lines.

He says that eight thousand soldiers are too many men to have in line when a governor is being inaugurated. He thinks that we shouldn't follow the inauguration with the time honored ball. Just why the ball should be given when a governor, or a president is inaugurated, is a question. It has never been satisfactorily answered. Senator Norman thinks it would be more appropriate to have a night of prayer of it, possibly upon the theory that when a governor assumes control of the state that he needs the prayers of the people worse than he needs anything else.

Senator Norman points out that the state is about to be taxed with a $50,000 governor's mansion, and wisely says that it will take a deal of money to maintain such a mansion. He sees the time coming when none but the rich can afford to become governor of Alabama.

All of which is respectfully submitted to the committee on finances, or ways and means.

RIDING AGAIN

There is in this town a little girl confined to her bed from injuries received by being run down with a bicycle. She was on the sidewalk in front of her home at the time the accident occurred. Her little brother was run over at the same time, but was not so badly hurt.

No one runs over a child on purpose, and every boy in town knows that it is against the law to ride on the sidewalks with bicycles. They know that if a case is made against them that they will be fined for it. The sidewalks are so smooth that they cannot resist the temptation to get on them.

Just when it will stop, no one knows. Almost any one hates to report a child for riding on the sidewalks, and but few ever report bigger boys, delivery boys, for riding the sidewalks, but it looks as if that was the only way to stop it. The mayor will assess a fine in every instance when the case is brought to his attention, but it is a law that has never been pressed much. The police cannot be all over town at the same time, and they are not supposed to see all who violate this ordinance. They dislike to make a case for such an offense anyway, as any one else would, so people who have control over their children, or the delivery boys in this town, ought to take the matter in hand and have them stop it.

DRUG SPEED.

By Gordon Lloyd, M. D.

Not long ago a chronic sufferer from organic heart disease, noting a sudden shortness of breath and other preliminary signs of an oncoming attack, summoned his physician post haste. Correctly diagnosing the case, the doctor proceeded instantly to administer a maximum dose of that trusty old heart brace, digitalis. But within thirty minutes the patient was dead.

Probably the patient would be alive today if the physician had not miscalculated the "speed" of his drug. That digitalis may be relied upon to steady and strengthen the heart, there is no doubt whatever. But digitalis requires from 24 to 36 hours from the time it is swallowed to begin action inasmuch as one may die of heart failure within a minute, we see that while the doctor waits 24 hours for his digitalis to take hold the patient has ample time in which to die at least a thousand times.

But the individual physician in the case above cited was not wholly to blame; because the profession at large has been content to remain largely ignorant until quite recently of the speed of drug action. Considering a bit further the case of digitalis, we find that medical writers until lately have been unable to explain its "cumulative" action—its trick of apparently reserving effect for one overwhelming stroke upon the nervous system. Since experiments have revealed the slowness of this drug's action, however, we know that we have heretofore not waited long enough between doses, but have continued to overlap effect upon effect until the patient was overcome.

Perhaps the speediest stimulant known to medicine is amylnitrite. This drug, a yellowish volatile liquid, comes in small glasses, capsules, or "pearls." It is given by inhalation, one of the pearls being crushed in a handkerchief and held to the nose. We are told that it "begins to act instantly," that its effects lasts only twenty minutes, and that it should be used only in an emergency. It should generally be followed immediately by hypodermic injection of strychnine which will be ready to take up and carry on the stimulated by the time the amylnitrite plays out.

There is urgent need for the very interesting studies now being carried on in various laboratories with a view of "timing" our materia medica. It needs tuning from abasinth to zingiber.

Something New In Kitchen Ware

The "1892" Pure Spun Aluminum Ware is rapidly coming into use for cooking purposes. It is taking the place of agate and enamel ware because while its first cost is a trifle more than ordinary ware, it is really much cheaper in the long run, as it is guaranteed for twenty-five years and will last practically a life time.

The genuine "1892" Ware, made only from pure SPUN (not cast) Aluminum, will not crack, scale, peel, break, scorch or burn.

It looks like silver but weighs only about one-quarter as much, is easily cleaned and handled, and will not rust, corrode or tarnish. Absolutely pure, non-poisonous and wholesome; saves money, time and doctor's bills.

Be sure you get the original and genuine ware stamped with the Maltese Cross. At your dealer's.

GOOD START

The sale we have put on, where nearly every article in the store is reduced to a price that seems ridiculous, has started off well. The store is crowded with customers as never before. The sale started Friday, and will last during this month.

Some of the staple articles we are offering will go mighty fast.

Don't wait too long to long to come to the store.

Normal Resume

The house of Saxon-Heard-Williams Co., resume normal conditions Monday. From what we are told—we feel sure our January clearance Sale was the most satisfactory sale ever held in Dothan. We certainly sold worlds of goods, cleaned out most of our winter stock, and we are now ready for spring business.

Again we adopt our liberal store policy of exchanging goods, refunding money, and will gladly charge it to you. If you happen to be one of the few, that felt our "sale's" rules were too serve, we beg you to be liberal enough to remember 'twas only a rule made to hold only during this sale and was absolutely necessary for a successful sale. New goods will be opened every day during the coming week.

Now, I can walk four miles and do my work with much more ease. I praise Cardui for my wonderful cure." Cardui is successful in benefiting sick women, because it is composed of ingredients that act specifically on the womanly constitution, relieving headache, backache, irregularly, misery and distress. Only a good medicine could show such continual increase in popularity as Cardui has, for the past 50 years. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. 13
